BIOGRAPHY

I am currently a DPhil student at the University of Oxford, advised by Prof. Kasper Rasmussen focusing on post-quantum cryptography in privacy-preserving search. Before starting my PhD, I was an Applied Cryptographer at CrossBar Inc. working on threshold ECDSA and a Research Assistant at the Alan Turing Institute working on privacy enhancing technologies. In the latter, I co-authored the Mahi-Mahi asynchronous DAG consensus protocol, BACON - a batched vector commitment for MPCitH-style signatures, and secure guidelines for implementing homomorphic encryption schemes.

EXPERIENCES

- 2025 - Applied Cryptographer, CrossBar Inc., United States
Threshold ECDSA and Post-Quantum Transition
- 2023 - 2025 Research Assistant, The Alan Turing Institute, United Kingdom
Asynchronous Consensus, Batched Vector Commitments, Homomorphic Encryption
- 2021 - 2021 Project Management Intern, PayPal, United Kingdom
Brexit Project
- 2019 - 2019 Undergraduate Researcher, Imperial College London, United Kingdom
Model Checking for Multi-Agent Systems
- 2018 - 2018 Project Intern, Boston Consulting Group, Indonesia
Timber and Tissue Paper Manufacturing in Indonesia
- 2017 - 2017 Research Assistant, The Habibie Center, Indonesia
Cybersecurity Policies in Asean

EDUCATION

- 2025 - University of Oxford, Oxford, United Kingdom
DPhil in Applied Cryptography
- 2021 -2022 University College London, London, United Kingdom
M.S in Emerging Digital Technologies
- 2017 - 2020 London School of Economics, London, United Kingdom
B.S in Philosophy, Logic, and Scientific Method
